Gather.Network Cookie Policy

Effective August 10, 2018

Gather.Network ("Gather.Network", "us", "we") respects individual privacy and value the confidence of its customers, business partners and others. Gather.Network is committed to upholding the highest ethical standards in its business practices.
This Cookie Policy ("Policy") applies to this website or to any website that includes a link or reference to this Policy ("Site(s)"), and the Gather.Network web-based mining platform ("Platform") and describes what cookies are, what types of cookies are placed on your device when you visit the Site and how we use them. This Policy does not address the collection, use and disclosure or your Personal Information by Gather.Network generally. To learn more about how Gather.Network handles your personal information, please see our Data Use and Privacy Policy.

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are sent to or accessed from your web browser or your computer's hard drive. A cookie typically contains the name of the domain (internet location) from which the cookie originated, the "lifetime" of the cookie (i.e., when it expires) and a randomly generated unique number or similar identifier. A cookie also may contain information about your computer, such as user settings, browsing history and activities conducted while using our services.

Why we use Cookies

Cookies help us improve the Site, the Platform, and your experience thereon by customizing your experience, helping us analyse usage, technical and browsing metrics as well as detecting and preventing fraud.

Different types of Cookies we use

First party and third-party cookies

First-party cookies and Third-party cookies are different types of cookies:
- First-party cookies are placed on your device directly by Gather.Network. For example, we use first-party cookies to adapt our website to your device or language preferences and to secure your use of Site.
- Third-party cookies are placed on your device by our third-party business partners and service providers. For example, we use third-party cookies to analyse the audience on our Site.

Session and persistent cookies

Session cookies and Persistent cookies are also different types of cookies.

- Session cookies only last from the moment they are placed on your browser until the moment when you close your browser. We use session cookies for a variety of purposes, including to learn more about your use of our Site during one single browser session and to help you to use our Site more efficiently.

- Persistent cookies have a longer lifespan and are not automatically deleted when you close your web browser. These types of cookies are primarily used for analytical purposes.

How we use Cookies

We use cookies to provide, secure and improve the Site, including by personalizing your experience, recognizing you when you visit our website. To these purposes, we also may link information from cookies with other personal information we hold about you. When you visit our Site, some or all of the following types of cookies may be set on your device. Cookies, like all technologies, can be swiftly replaced by more secure and performant cookies. We will use our best efforts to keep this summary table accurate and up-to-date.

Your choices regarding cookies

You may exercise your choices regarding cookies. Please note that changes you make to your cookie preferences may prevent all or part of our Site from functioning as intended.

Browser and devices controls

Most web browsers provide settings that allow users to control or reject cookies or to alert users when a cookie is placed on their computer. The procedure for managing cookies is slightly different for each internet browser, so please check the specific steps in the "help" menu of your web browser. Since cookies are browser specific, you may need to manage your cookies preferences across all the web browsers you use.
You also may be able to reject device identifiers by activating the appropriate setting on your mobile device, as available. The procedure for managing device identifiers is slightly different for each device, so please check the specific steps in the documentation relating to the device you use.

Google™ Cookies

Some Enterprise groups that we provide platform services to choose to use Google Analytics, which is a Google service that uses cookies and other data collection technologies to collect information about your use of the website and services in order to report website trends.

You can opt out of Google Analytics by visiting https://www.google.com/settings/ads or by downloading the Google Analytics opt-out browser add-on at https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout.

Updates to this Policy

We reserve the right to update this Cookies Policy from time to time in order to reflect any changes to our Sites or to comply with changes in our legal and/or regulatory obligations. We will post the revised version on the Site, with an updated revision date. Where such changes to our Cookies Policy are substantial, we will also notify you by other means prior to the changes taking effect, such as by sending you an email notification. By continuing to use our Site and/or our Platform thirty days after such revisions are in effect, you will be deemed to accept and agree to the revisions and to abide by them.
